

Preach Constantly

~Other Speakers S-Z: Arthur Vess:

Preach Holiness constantly, not as a hobby, but as the great foundation and fountain of all truth. John Wesley said, "Preach holiness in every sermon." You cannot preach the truth without preaching holiness. Everything is holy or unholy. If you preach holiness with all its relations and applications, you can never exhaust it. Do not repeat for emptiness, but for emphasis. A lawyer once said that "if lawyers practiced law like you preachers preach the gospel, we'd never win a case. We find out the main points in our evidence and emphasize them over and over from every angle. But you preachers just hit one point one time and another the next time until we are convinced of nothing." The Holy Bible is full of holiness, and the unholy world is void of it and needs it more than all else. Use illustrations, persuasion, arguments, instruction, information, and inspiration. Preach it in regeneration, sanctification and glorification.
