Hi, Greg

I want to ask you about these new sermons,"The Final Testimony of an Unprepared Heart" and "The Cry That God Will Never Answer" from Carter Conlon, can you say something more about them, are they classical sermons from the church or something else, and are they one sermon in file? Because these are too big files and i am with very slow connection :(, so I will need a long time to download them!

yes. they are one high quality video file.. I might just try and replace them with lower quality ones and also audio mp3 versions of it.

I would recommend you don't download these new ones then.. I will try and get them back up at about 50mbs each in size that is.
