While chatting with a friend I made a meandering connection between Brother Andrew and KP Yohannan (using Leonard Ravenhill, George Verwer and others...) Then my friend asked me, 'But what about Kevin Bacon?' And then I did something amazing, which I didn't believe possible -Brother Andrew to Kevin Bacon.

Brother Andrew was a good friend with the late Leonard Ravenhill (Leonard even claimed jokingly to have suggested the name for the book 'God's Smuggler'). Leonard Ravenhill was a father figure and mentor to the late Christian musician and teacher Keith Green. Keith Green, late in his life, was in a close relationship with Loren Cunningham, founder of YWAM. Loren Cunningham's son David Loren Cunningham directed the movie 'To End All Wars' based on the book by Ernest Gordon and starring Kiefer Sutherland. Kiefer Sutherland was in the movie 'Flatliners' with Kevin Bacon!

And here I thought that the six-degrees of Kevin Bacon only applied when using actors. (Well there are really seven-degrees used in my one...)
