

General Topics :: "...take ten looks at the Lord"

"...take ten looks at the Lord" - posted by Here4Him (), on: 2006/12/7 19:25

Hi, can anyone tell me who it was who said "for every one look at your sin take ten looks at the Lord"?

The Lord has reminded me today that the most important thing in Christianity is simply beholding His Son!

Re: "...take ten looks at the Lord", on: 2006/12/7 19:59

It sounds similar to the gaze and glance triangle.

Picture a triangle. God is at the top, you are on the right, and your problem is on the left. Keep your gaze on God and just glance at the problem!

We're going to be gazing at something...either our problems or Christ.

:-)

Re: "...take ten looks at the Lord" - posted by wonserwonton (), on: 2006/12/7 20:12

"For every look at self take ten looks at Christ."

-Robert Murray McCheyne

Blessings,
Amy

Re: - posted by Here4Him (), on: 2006/12/8 6:07

Thanks Amy! And yeah i like the triangle thing Ronyia- thats great.

"Turn your eyes upon Jesus, look full in His wonderful face, and the things of the earth will go strangely dim in the light of His glory and grace!"

The Lord led me to write something about beholding the Lord Jesus Christ yesterday- i might post it on Sermonindex if the Lord leads me to, and if it can be of help to anyone out there.

The Lord bless you!

George