

Welcome & Intro :: Northern Ireland

Northern Ireland - posted by UlsterMan, on: 2007/10/10 19:48

What about you all?

After using this site for many years I thought I would finally get around to joining and saying hello. Over the years I have been mightily blessed by some of the many powerful sermons that are found here. What a treasure store. Recently I have been so challenged by listening to Bro. Keith Daniels.

Though we have a rich heritage of revival and gospel preaching here in Ulster, we now have a generation that knows nothing of the mighty working of God and is prepared to settle for so little.

Oh that my generation would know what it is to experience the outpouring of God's Spirit in revival.

Keep up the good work,

Andrew

Re: Northern Ireland - posted by running2win (), on: 2007/10/11 8:15

Welcome to the forum Andrew! I too was an Sler for a couple of years before actually registering and using the forum. I've been greatly blessed by the site and the forums.

God bless brother!