What exactly does a "sticky post" mean?
thanks

I think it means that it is very good reading, or so judged by moderators,, and made sticky and therefore always on top of the threads :-) so it is a good thing to go through them all one by one....

Yes, its just a post thread that is considered by moderators worthy of more viewings and have been "tacked" at the top of the discussion board section. These change over time!

Ah, hence the tack. i get it. I guess sticky post is a better name than tacky post. (that was a joke in case your not laughing right now) :o)
