

Welcome & Intro :: God is moving in his people*God is moving in his people - posted by tulip (), on: 2008/12/23 11:48

i have just registerd with sermon index but i have looked around for a while a found this web site by reading the brush arbor quaterely i am a babtist preacher from tn and i believe in the full sovereignty of God not a god that nobody is mad a t ive been called a fool a nutt a false preacher but no matter how much people presecute me i love the lord and i rejoyce in the truth .

i feel that god is bringing his people back to the rock from which we were cutt and bringing us to a great revival amongst a humanistic reprobated world praise the lord and god bless you all.

Get a single, solitary thought in your mind,
and that thought--the precious love of Jesus.
Go forth and live it out, and come what may;
you will be respected though abused. They may call you an enthusiast, a fanatic, a fool; but these names from the world are badges of honor and glory. The world does not think to hinder someone who is following in its course.
When they begin to cast stones, it is because they know they have a man to be reckoned with!!
