

Welcome & Intro :: Hello*Hello - posted by tincture (), on: 2009/9/30 12:34

Hello to this wonderful community of the children of God. I am a servant of the Most High God too and I love His wonderful name. He is my Father and His Son is my Lord and Savior. I am a 62 year old widow with 4 children and 8 grandchildren. I presently live with my children and I am enjoying this time of my life as I am able to devote more and more time to the Master. I have been living for God for most of my life and He has blessed me to be faithful in seeking Him. Hail to all who love Him and are looking for His appearing!

Praise God.

Always great to hear of a fellow believer becoming a member on this website.

Welcome! Hope you will enjoy this site. There is a lot of wonderful, edifying sermons and forums here.

I, too, am 62 YO but am married - been married to the same man for 42 years. We had five children - ages 41 - 28 yrs. old - and now have 11 grands. They range in age from 6 months to 16 years (almost). We love them all.

Yes, this stage of life does have its rewards, unfathomed by the younger generation!

I look forward to reading your posts....

Blessings,
ginnyrose

thank you ginnyrose for your kind response.....i love your name by the way. It was a ginny who won me to the Lord by her life's testimony. I love sermonindex. Have listened to the audio's for years and have never posted but am ready to post now. There are some things the Lord has given me in this late hour to share. xoxox

Welcome to SI.
There are some fine Christians here, who believe in Prayer.
You are with people who may not always agree, but love the Lord.
God Bless you.
