Obama is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

Re: , on: 2009/11/11 16:10
What sheep's clothing? He's just a wolf. He's never tried to hide who he is. People just decided they did not care... and now we have to pay for that.

Brothers let us not miss the point of this message by Piper to pray for our President. For "there is no authority except from God, and the authorities that exist are appointed by God...render therefore to all their due: taxes to whom taxes are due, customs to whom customs, fear to whom fear, honor to whom honor." Ro.13:1-7 and

"1 Therefore I exhort first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men, 2 for kings and all who are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and reverence. 3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, 4 who desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth." 2 Tim. 1:4

Notice also the giving of thanks be made for kings and all who are in authority for they are chosen of God to work His purposes on earth and thereby they reflect His wisdom and glory, though we may not understand it now. It's like the looking at all the dots of a Monet and not being able to see the whole masterpiece.

Prayer must be made for the U.S. President.

Very powerful!

I will submit under this President until he commands us to act contrary to the revealed will of God.

It is my understanding that he does this already in his stance on Marriage and Abortion.

My sentiments exactly.

Technically, President Obama has not commanded any of us to disobey God by his stances on marriage and abortion.

His health care will have abortions paid for by taxpayer money.

Actually it won't. See article:

And in any case it hasn't yet so Christians don't need to prematurely throw their 'just rebellion' card yet. It usually seems we are all too eager to fight against 'the system.' If we spent nearly as much time praying (or even putting some works to that faith by running for political positions) for the President and Congress, as opposed to eating up every news story and holy grumbling about it, things might be different?

I think our negativity towards government and speed to which we jump to conclusions reveals the conditions of hearts: we are nowhere near the aforementioned things laid out by Paul in Romans and Timothy.

Forgive me if I'm eager for the final empire to rise and Christ to come as the uncut stone and smash it to pieces and usher in His Kingdom.

:-P

Even now... Lord come quickly!

Indeed, I share your sentiments, yet let us be careful to steward our hearts and prayers as our Lord has prescribed until His blessed return.

Aye. For this struggle in this life is but for a moment... and then we shall pass into eternal glory.

Oh the anticipation!
