Hi pollux...

Welcome to SermonIndex! I pray that you are great encouraged and challenged by the immense amount of resources found here on SermonIndex.

You can use the MAIN MENU on the left of the screen to access the thousands of audio, video and text messages available. You can also access some of the most provoking and encouraging messages under the SERMON RECOMMENDATIONS menu on the right of your screen. The website's forum allows us to interact with other believers from a wide range of backgrounds as we encourage one another toward a stronger relationship with the Lord.

Again, welcome to SermonIndex!

Welcome Pollux, you have found an amazing website. Or maybe, like others, the Spirit of God has lead you here. As I believe he has done for many. I hope this place helps you grow in your faith as it is helping me and many others.

I was wondering which website you were referring to, because so far only two people have responded to my Hello. I wish newcomers were made more welcome in this forum.

If I could divide myself into two people, my other me would say hello as well! :)

Aready,

I gave my honest 'undivided' opinion. :)

Probably not your typical forum experience but there are many blessings to be received. :)

Hello by the way. I personally am a long time user of SI but relatively new to the forums. Enjoy!

Re: , on: 2010/1/12 17:20

Thanks, Ben & Mary. But I still feel newcomers should be given a warmer welcome.

I get the feeling that newcomers are treated as if they are new to Christ. Not necessarily so. We must never become proud know-it-alls. We are all learning Christ.

Welcome to the forums. Remember as with most things its not the quantity but rather the quality:)

Hope you will enjoy reading many of the wonderful teachings here on Sermon index. I have several favorites of my own that have really helped me in my walk with the Lord.

God Bless you
maryjane

hello and welcome!

Re: , on: 2010/1/12 20:12

Nasekom, thank you. 'Hello & welcome' (Irish welcome) is better than a plain, cold 'hello'. :)

Re: - posted by nasekom (), on: 2010/1/12 20:18

:) pollux hello again.although i'm not native Irish i greet you here on SermonIndex with warm Irish Hello and God bless!!!

Re: , on: 2010/1/12 20:24

Well, 'hello, welcome and God bless' shows that you have a warm heart. Bless you, brother! :)
