Yes and 9:00a.m. cst. Today was such a blessing. If you don't have a church to go to, join in with Times Square. Very important message today.

Amen! I will look on their web page for when it comes up for us to listen to and post it. It was an awesome "for today" message. One I want to listen again to.

And even if you have a Church some of us on the West in the US can listen to it before going to Church. It is really awesome to already have been in the Presence of the Lord before going to my Church! Glory to God!
