Importance Of Right Spiritual Climate by A.W. Tozer - posted by Jeremy221, on: 2011/2/24 16:21

One of the blessings of being able to see things as they are is an ability to see yourself rightly and understand the challenges of others. As we seek to be like Jesus Christ we are faced with just how unlike Him we really are which can unduly shift our focus from Him. This message has been an encouragement to me several times and pray that it bless you too.

This is so true! Seeing the truth about yourself can break your heart and we really need to see the truth about ourselves before we can see the truth in others. Our own judgments, opinions, experiences can so cloud the way we look at others and understand them.

I will listen to this. Thank you for the referral!

God bless you,
