Due to the requests of many people I have decided to spend some time getting more backgrounds together so people can have an image and quote from famous christians on their computer desktop. All backgrounds are at 1024x768 resolution which is a good standard for most computers. I will add more backgrounds as I send out newsletters.

I added another wallpaper: George Whitefield

I am personally using this one on my apple laptop at the moment. The life of George Whitefield has been and is continuing to be an inspiration to myself. I hope if you use this wallpaper that it will inspire you to seek more after Jesus and be used by Him.

I'm here at Pastor Jack's Kings college and I attempted to set the Finney pic, and mostly his fiercely burning eyes take up the whole screen, so I took it down, I was afraid I'd scare the 'civilians'!! lol

Neil

Yes Finney does have quite a look, He used to talk about the countenance of a minister can bring conviction on the people around him. I have gotten that background up on my computer a few times and it did shock some people. I would repent just looking at him.. jks :-P

Yes, I had the same thing happen many times when folk see the desktop. WHO is that? Lots of things come to mind. One is how different he looked when he was older than when he was young. Then again, sometime portrait paintings are not trustworthy because of the people who had them made would get made at the painter if they didn't like the look- even if it were accurate. I seriously doubt Finney would do that- but I know some painters did. Some painters actually 'doctored' the photos- especially ones of themselves.

In Lecture 13 Finney deals with a most disturbing subject; men who have sought revival and the people were stiffnecked until it killed the ministers. They literally died trying to see revival take place. I wonder if Finney's wild looks are not at least in part due to the stress and grief of dealing with cold professors and hardened sinners.

I would love to have an image of John Wesley. Have you got anything? I can add a quote to the image myself. But I love the style of these images. Anything you have of Wesley in this theme would be great.

FYI Still watching for a reply on the John Wesley image.

Hi PGP,

Greg is in the Ukraine right now ministering to street kids. I am sure if he has something available he would be more than glad to put it up on site. Stay tuned brother.

Thanks, crsschk. I also have friends in the Ukraine as we speak. Interesting.

We start a new message series this week at our church and I'd love to have the image for this series. Of course, nothing is a must! Thanks, I'll stay tuned and hold out as long as possible. :-)

I just received an email request to locate any wallpapers on the website. I am going to try and redo a lot of them and add more and pin it in the forums section so they are more accessible.
