

Welcome & Intro :: New Member*New Member - posted by Dublin, on: 2011/11/2 9:31

Just wanted to say that I am new to the site and that I thank God for this opportunity to apply my heart to instruction and my ears to knowledge. I'm new to this technology also, so please bear with me. For the purpose of prayer, how can I know what date a prayer request on that forum was posted?

Re: New Member - posted by staff, on: 2011/11/10 19:10

Hi Dublin,
I don't quite get your question but I'm sure someone else will. Welcome to this site which is packed with material, discussion, controversy and a lot of Love too!
Are you Irish?
Great link below a sermon by Alan Bartley called bringing a new thing to birth which talks about revival in Ireland.
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IBfija1mT9g>
Yours Staff

Re: New Member - posted by learjet, on: 2011/11/10 20:00

Just wanted to give you a warm welcome brother (or sister)! :-)

Grace and peace to you!

Re: New Member - posted by ginnyrose (), on: 2011/11/10 20:18

QUOTE:

"how can I know what date a prayer request on that forum was posted?"

On the left at the bottom of the box that has the poster's name, etc., there is another little box where it will tell you what day and time this post was posted. Look for the original post with the request and this should give you the info you want.

Welcome..hope you enjoy the site and forums.

God bless.
ginnyrose

Re: - posted by mama27, on: 2011/11/10 21:08

Welcome, Dublin - God bless you!

Re: New Member - posted by joliboy11, on: 2011/11/10 23:18

Welcome,

try the recommended sermons

,
God is with us...
let us follow Him,

may I just advise you to avoid quarrelsome discussions that are not worthy...