

Devotional Thoughts :: How life is measured

How life is measured - posted by MaryJane, on: 2012/6/20 9:07

Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take—but by the Jesus-moments that take our breath away, and by such moments we offer to others!

this wonderful seed was shared with me and I thought I would share it with some few here.

We could then ask, what is a 'breathtaking Jesus moment'?

The answer will vary from person to person.

But if it is of God, we should know.

YES! exactly thank you for sharing. GOD is so awesome and loves us so much that HE does indeed have those moments that are tailored just for us! I agree when these moments come we know.

God Bless
