

General Topics :: Love....

Love.... - posted by MaryJane, on: 2013/3/15 13:52

“Most of your work will be burned up not necessarily because you did the wrong things—but because the spirit that you were of was so loveless that He couldn’t confirm it. God is Love, and it wasn’t Him.”

“Your whole identity has got to be in the love of God and his home in you—and therefore you will love others as the foundation of your existence and identity.”

7/13/2004

Very good reminders for us all as we deal with one another and those around us. I was thinking today that loving the way JESUS does means risk...I pray I will have the courage to take risks today :)

God bless
maryjane

Re: Love.... - posted by DEADn (), on: 2013/3/15 19:03

I made a post about 'love is my religion' and your post reminds me of it. If one loves outside of the context of God will those works be burned away?

Re: - posted by MaryJane, on: 2013/3/15 19:40

by DEADn on 2013/3/15 13:03:18

I made a post about 'love is my religion' and your post reminds me of it. If one loves outside of the context of God will those works be burned away?

Greetings

It is my understanding that anything we do outside of GOD will be burned away yes. Anything that is not of HIM will be like hay and stubble and tossed into the fire.

God bless
maryjane

Re: - posted by DEADn (), on: 2013/3/15 21:17

Do you think that even if someone were to love but not necessarily do it in the name of God, those works would be burned?

Re: - posted by MaryJane, on: 2013/3/15 21:30

by DEADn on 2013/3/15 15:17:13

Do you think that even if someone were to love but not necessarily do it in the name of God, those works would be burned?

Yes I do believe that. Anything we do even loving another, even in loving a spouse if we do it outside of GODS plan and

General Topics :: Love....

HIS will then the motivation is self and that sin will be burned up. Its tells us in the WORD that there is nothing good in a ny of us apart from CHRIST JESUS. Even my love for my children must be centered on CHRIST, anything else would c ome from selfish motives and be burned up. In all things GOD must come first and I think this especially applies to loving other...this is my understanding :)

God bless
mj