Christianity is in danger of becoming extinct in its ancient homelands because of a rising tide of sectarian attacks, a senior minister will warn on Friday.

Violence against Christian worshippers and other religious minorities by fanatics has become a "global crisis" and is the gravest challenge facing the world this century, Baroness Warsi will say.

"A mass exodus is taking place, on a Biblical scale. In some places, there is a real danger that Christianity will become extinct," she will say at a speech at Georgetown University in Washington. ...

jesus said upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of Hades will not overcome it.

God will always leave a remnant for himself. Even in North Korea which is considered the worst persecuter of Christians there is a thriving underground church.

So it is pretty extreme to say that Christianity will be extinct.
