The #1 movie in America this week, on: 2005/4/4 10:48

Interesting to me that the weekend the Pope dies, the weekend after Easter, the number one movie in the US is called "Sin City".

Not changing my view of the Catholic Church at all, but I think this really shows where our country is at spiritually.

Uhhmm... yea, I started to suspect we were in trouble when the Beatles stepped off the plane...

(Actually, I wasnt even a sparkle in my momma's eye when the Beatles stepped off the plane! LOL)

This reminds me of all the flamboyant TV preachers telling about how this or that piece of news signifies the coming of the end of the world, like man has ever done anything but limp along. I often wonder if these folks have read the defiance man has for God, apparent in the Old Testament era. Even our churches drip with the religious, while the remnants suffer and are persecuted by their peers for testing doctrine.
