Hi, Is there a way to search the forums? I am sure some of my questions will have been asked before.

Thank you,
Applemom

ps,

I have been reading through threads and oddly even tho I think I start at page one I can't seem to find the opening post. both the top and bottom of what seems to be page one has replies, neither appears to be the original post. What am I missing?

On the main page near the top there is a search bar.

If you are signed in, the newest posts are on page 1. If you are not signed in, the newest posts are on the last page.
