

Welcome & Intro :: Introducing myself*Introducing myself - posted by KervinM (), on: 2019/1/15 7:42

Greetings to all in Christ Jesus' name. I am Kervin Mathumbu from South Africa. I have been in the Christian faith nearly 10 years now and greatly benefited from the several SI text content I have read some years back. I have had an account back then which I somehow lost access to and have had to create a new one. But I of cause at that time never thought it wise to join the forum (thought I somehow may not be worthy). I lately tried to join but found out that SI was using AdSense which I was at the time already averse to. I disabled my adblocker to check today and I saw no ad and wonder if that might mean that the same was finally disregarded. I still have no answers but I thought I might join up with an open mind incase there has been something I may have missed all along. Looking forward to an edifying stay. Shalom!
