Reading this shows me God is still at work and there is still hope for this generation.

Thanks for sharing this!

I sent the link to a friend of mine and her husband who is an administrator in a Christian school and over the boys sports shared it with the young men and it really sparked some excellent conversations and admiration for the young man's stance in Colorado.

It is unbelievable that the world has sunk to such insanity over the last decade.

Lord, will you raise up a righteous generation once again for Jesus' sake.
