Afterwards!

(Charles Spurgeon)

"No chastening seems to be joyful for the present, but painful; nevertheless, afterwards it yields the peaceable fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it." Hebrews 12:11

How happy are tried Christians, afterwards. There is no calm more deep than that which follows a storm. Who has not rejoiced in clear shinings after rain? Victorious banquets are for well-exercised soldiers.

After killing the lion--we eat the honey;
after climbing the Hill Difficulty--we sit down in the arbor to rest;
after traversing the Valley of Humiliation, after fighting with Apollyon, the shining one appears, with the healing branch from the tree of life.

Our sorrows, like the passing keels of the vessels upon the sea, leave a silver line of holy light behind them "afterwards." It is peace, sweet, deep peace--which follows the horrible turmoil which once reigned in our tormented, guilty souls.

See, then, the happy estate of a Christian! He has his best things last, and he therefore in this world receives his worst things first. But even his worst things are "afterwards" good things--harsh ploughings--yielding joyful harvests. Even now .

he grows rich by his losses,
he rises by his falls,
he lives by dying, and he becomes full by being emptied.

If, then, his grievous afflictions yield him so much peaceable fruit in this life--what shall be the full vintage of joy "afterwards" in Heaven? If his dark nights are as bright as the world's days--what shall his days be? If even his starlight is more splendid than the sun--what must his sunlight be? If he can sing in a dungeon--how sweetly will he sing in Heaven! If he can praise the Lord in the fires--how will he extol Him before the eternal throne! If evil is good to him now--what will the overflowing goodness of God be to him then?

Oh, blessed "afterwards!" Who would not be a Christian? Who would not bear the present cross--for the crown which comes afterwards?
