

General Topics :: Kabbalah

Kabbalah - posted by Willo (), on: 2005/12/29 0:02

G'day,

I am doing research into the Kabbalah, and wonder if you guys can give any info on it, like beliefs, teachings, people involved, and how to refute it.

Thanks

Re: Kabbalah - posted by CyberCarbon (), on: 2005/12/29 1:25

Well to start, run the name on this website and listen and read what we already have.

Re: - posted by jouko (), on: 2005/12/29 1:52

Hello Brisbane.

Here's another site and info that will lead you in each and every direction on what you are looking for. It's close to home too.

jouko

<http://www.spiritual-research-network.com/home.htm>

Re: Kabbalah, on: 2005/12/29 10:54

Seek Jesus, forsake the idea of studying such a topic.

Jesus said, Luke 8:18 Take heed therefore how ye hear

Why would you want to hear something that is not truth.

Believe me, get filled up with the Holy Spirit and you will KNOW how to deal with this belief when you come into contact with it.

I studied religious teachings and can tell you that it profits nothing for the kingdom of God, it makes your head swell because "knowledge puffeth up", and God can't use you. I had to learn the hard way, take heed my brother lest you fall.

Karl

Re: - posted by Willo (), on: 2005/12/29 22:05

Quote:

Healingwaters wrote:

Seek Jesus, forsake the idea of studying such a topic.

Jesus said, Luke 8:18 Take heed therefore how ye hear

Why would you want to hear something that is not truth.

Believe me, get filled up with the Holy Spirit and you will KNOW how to deal with this belief when you come into contact with it.

I studied religious teachings and can tell you that it profits nothing for the kingdom of God, it makes your head swell because "knowledge puffeth up", and God can't use you. I had to learn the hard way, take heed my brother lest you fall.

Karl

- 1) I am filled with the Spirit.
- 2) Nothing wrong with studying (no intention in converting)
- 3) Doing street evangelism, it is handy to have a knowledge of the new hip things.

So your concerns are unfounded. My trust, and hope is in the Living God, and He will guide and protect me.

Re: warnings and pitfalls, on: 2005/12/29 23:03

Willo

You misunderstood when I said get filled up with the holy Spirit. There is a vast difference between receiving the holy Spirit and being filled with it.

I have the holy Spirit too, but I am not filled with Him.

I was merely sharing my experiences when I used to study out different cults, I found my relationship with the LORD to be drying up, till one day I had a box full of my study material and I asked the LORD what I should do with it, and in that still small voice He says, "throw it out". It was garbage night that night and I took it to the curb, it was the best decision I made, and I was blessed for it.

I hope you don't become like me that's all, nothing wrong in warning another brother of the dangers and pitfalls of life's experiences is there?

Karl